TECHNOLOGY NEWS

Survive the Summer Tech Free!

As we are about to start summer vacation, one thing parents might worry about is their children spending way too much time zoned out on their tech devices. It's a valid concern, and it can be a real challenge to convince kids to disengage! Fortunately, there are things you can do to make the summer fun and largely tech free! A couple suggestions:

- Set limits on screen time.
- Physically put the devices away.
- Have a list of things kids can do that are fun but tech free.
- Have a summer routine.
- Model the behavior you want when it comes to technology.
- Make screen time family time.
